Child Scalded, Dies.

An infant, eight months old, the youngest of Peter Taylor and wife, two and one half miles southeast of Barnett, died at their home last Monday from the effects of a scald which it received on Saturday evening previous.

Mrs. Taylor had heated some water to scald a chicken and after she was done with the water, left it standing in the kettle in the yard. During her absence the child crawled to and overturned the boiling water onto its body, scalding it severely. Death resulted Monday, interment taking place at the Preston Taylor cemetery Tuesday.

We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones in the loss of their little one so near and dear to them.—Barnett Enterprise.

Saddle Horses At State Fair.

The Board of Directors has extended the classification of saddle horses and increased the premiums. A premium is offered this year for the best high school horse, mare or gelding, and these fancy actors are coming from all over the state. All saddle classes are open to the world, and Kentucky will enter her best animals in competition with the product of Missouri breeders. The winners of Missouri Saddle Horses at World's Fair at Chicago in 1893, and at every great interstate contest since that time fully demonstrates the superiority of Missouri animals, and the coming contest at the State Fair will, without doubt, confirm their claim to leadership.

The National Saddle Horse Breeders Association offers a solid silver cup valued at $100 for the best saddle under two years old exhibited at the State Fair. Every locality in the state where the breeding of saddle horses has been made a specialty, will have an entry in this class, and Kentucky has selected her best youngsters and will send them to Missouri to compete for this prize. The best saddle horses in the United States will be at the State Fair, and the best and largest exhibition ever made is assured.

Williams-Hardy Wedding.

Monday night Jewell Williams and Miss Montie Hardy surprised their most intimate friends by going to the residence of Rev. C. J. Polston in the northeast part of the city where they were quietly united in marriage.

This union was the consummation of a courtship of several months standing and was deliberate in so far as the contracting parties were concerned. They are both natives of Morgan county, the groom being the son of our southside grocer, E. A. Williams, while the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hardy, Sr., both families being among our best people. Both being industrious young folks they are already making preparations to settle down like old people and make the best out of life, and the Republican joins their many friends in wishing them all the prosperity and happiness that may be possible to reap as they proceed on life's journey.

"Why is it," inquires a South Missouri editor, "a careless 7-year-old kid can drop a half burned match in the alley and burn all the barns in a block while an able bodied man has to use up a box of matches to light a wood fire in the kitchen stove full of splinters, kindling and Rockefeller's oil?"
